Major General Sir David Henderson, the chief of the British Royal Flying Corps, is in his fifty-third year. He is a native of Scotland, the son of a prominent citizen of Glasgow. He was twenty-one when he entered the army, joining the Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders. In 1890 he was promoted to captain. His first military fame was gained in the South African campaign of 1898, when he received honorable mention in the dispatches and British and Egyptian medals, as well as the brevet of major. He received a severe wound in the D. S. O. and the king's and queen's medals, and the rank of lieutenant-colonel. He bore the rank of colonel when he went to the front with Field Marshal French's army, as commander of the British Flying Corps. He was mentioned in terms of high

Yea, sed Persey, and I sed, Are you kuing.

No, I woodnt go to yure old party, sed Persey.

Well, I sent you a invitayshin, enway, I sed.

Wich I did.

CENTENARY OF DECATUR'S DEFEAT.

Today marks the centenary of one of the last of the naval battles between Great Britain and the United States. Although the treaty of peace was signed and sealed at Ghent, on Dec. 24, 1814, the news that the war was over did not reach New York until Feb. 11, 1815. In the meantime the battle of New Orleans was fought and won by Jackson's gallant frontiersmen, and British men-o-war continued to patrol the Atlantic coast of America.

Commodore Stephen Decatur, the hero of the thrilling exploit on the Barbary coast, was placed in command of the frigate United States at the outbreak of the second war between England and her former American colonies, and in 1812 he engaged and captured the British frigate Macedonian.

In January of 1815 Decatur was in command of the frigate President, and was bottled up in New York harbor. New York was then blockaded by four British warships, but Decatur, disregarding the odds against him, ventured out on the 15th. The President was injured in passing the bar, and was in no condition to give battle, but Decatur went on until he came up with the British frigate Endymion. The battle was waged furiously, and the Endymion was reduced to a wreck when her three sister vessels came up and engaged in the combat.

Two more naval battles between British and American ships were fought before the era of peace, now a century long, finally dawned. In the capture of the American frigate Constitution was off the island of Madeira when she met the British sloop-of-war Cyane and Levant.

Captain Stewart, of the Constitution, immediately captured the Cyane, and the British squadron the prisoners were released, and the British tars lined the deck and cheered Decatur and his men on their way.

est praise in the early reports of his superior, who on several occasions gave addition to the "invaluable value" of the "admirable work" of Sir David and his men of the air. In November Sir David was promoted to the rank of major-general. General Henderson was an interpreter of a well known author, Maurice Baring, author of "Round the World in Any Number of Days" and other travel works. While the Royal Flying Corps is comparatively new branch of the British army, it has proved to be of tremendous value, as have the aerial corps of all the nations engaged in the titanic struggle for European supremacy. From the time he took charge of the corps Sir David developed its efficiency along the lines of scouting work. He believed that bomb-dropping from aeroplanes was without practical value in warfare, and experience has demonstrated the correctness of his conclusions.

One of the best sales of the season will be held at Radford B. Smith's Saturday. Such a variety of goods are carried at this popular store that every time people see things they would not think of looking for in dry goods or department stores, and often at prices very much lower than asked by specialty stores.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Sherwood of Houghton's Hill.

A whist will be held at the Easton Grange hall on Thursday evening, January 21. At the close of the evening refreshments will be served. Mrs. Chester Hull is spending a few days in Chelsea with her sister, Mrs. C. S. Everett spent Wednesday out of town.

The week night services of the Baptist church will be held on Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Miss Bertha Banks has returned to her home having been caring for Mrs. William Parker who has been ill for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wells recently spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hazard of Derby.

Frederick Schuman, who recently fell and broke three ribs, is now able to be out again.

Arthur S. Burr attended the funeral of his brother, Frank Burr, in Ansonia Monday. Mr. Burr formerly lived in this place and his death came as a shock to acquaintances. He was ill only a few days, having been seized on Sunday night with a sore throat which developed into quinsy. Blood poisoning resulted. Death came Thursday night. Mr. Burr is survived by his widow, two sons and a daughter.

Station Agent Shepherd slipped down the steps of S. J. Parks' store, Tuesday, striking the back of his neck on the stone step at the bottom. He escaped serious injury.

Miss Theresa Dow and Miss Pearl Steve of West avenue, Bridgeport, were wedding guests of Miss Josephine Carey.

Mrs. Clarence A. Goodyear of Nichols was called to her home in Philadelphia recently on account of serious illness of her brother.

Kenneth Card and Harold Woodin are victims of the whooping cough.

Werner Klingner is home from the Bridgeport hospital, where he has been laid up with a broken leg. He is unable to walk but gets about in a wheel chair.

Capt. Card has had the misfortune to fall and break a rib.

Edward Sherman recently sold a tract of land to the Bridgeport Hydraulic Co.

The third monthly entertainment at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium in Long Hill, to-morrow evening will be ladies' night. The program includes: Address, The Gymnasium for Women, Miss Emma Franz; Athletics, Junior Class, Miss Selena; Miss Alice Wedge; Athletics, Senior Class; Vocal Selections, Miss Aurelia Berger; Athletics, Junior Class; Recitations, Miss Beanie L. Trendwell.

Mrs. Aurelia Berger and Miss Alice Wedge will be the accompanists. A basketball game between the Long Hill Blacks and Long Hill Reds will close the evening.

The Lawrence Gas Co. of Boston, will increase its capital stock from $1,900,000 to $2,500,000.

Thin People Can Increase Weight

Thin men and women who would like to increase their weight with 10 or 15 pounds of healthy "stay there" fat should try eating a little Sargol with their meals for a while and note results. Here is a good test worth trying. First weigh yourself and measure yourself. Then take Sargol one-tablet with every meal—for two weeks. Then weigh and measure again. It isn't a question of how you look or feel or what your friends say and think. The scales and the tape measure will tell their own story, and most any thin man or woman can easily add from five to eight pounds in the first fourteen days by following this simple routine. And best of all, the new flesh stays put.

Sargol does not of itself make fat, but mixing with your food, it turns the fats, sugars and starches of what you have eaten, into rich, ripe fat producing nourishment for the tissues and blood—preparing it in an assimilable form which the blood can readily accept. All this nourishment now passes from your body as waste. But Sargol stops the waste and does it quickly and makes the fat producing contents of the very same meals you are eating now develop pounds and pounds of healthy flesh between your skin and bones. Sargol is safe, pleasant, efficient and inexpensive. Leading druggists in Bridgeport and vicinity sell it in large boxes—forty tablets to a package—on a guarantee of weight increase or money back.—Adv.

RHEUMATISM
MEDICINE FREE

We want the name of every person everywhere who is suffering with rheumatism, so we can send him a free sample bottle of Hill's Rheumatic Remedy. We don't care how long, or how severe he has had it, as there are very few cases that have not yielded and been thoroughly cured with it. It works at once. It takes only a few days to stop the pain. Don't take our word for it—test it as our expense. This is not a new untried thing. For twenty-five years it has been regarded by physicians as practically the only certain treatment for this terrible disease.

Over 10,000 Testimonials Like These:

Mr. E. M. Ehlers, Secty. Grand Lodge of Mason of New York City writes that, "Although I suffer from rheumatism for many years, two doses stopped all pain and one bottle cured me."

Mr. A. Goldman, Victoria, Texas, says: "I am very well pleased with your medicine, am recommending it very highly. It has done more for me than anything I have ever tried."

Marshall F. W. Geraty, of 70 Manhattan St., New York, says: "I have suffered with Rheumatism for many years, have tried almost every known remedy but got no relief or cure until I took your medicine. It was entirely cured and free from all pain. I send this unsolicited."

Hill's Rheumatic Remedy is on sale at most drug stores at $1.00 per bottle. One bottle generally effects a complete cure. Call or send for free sample bottle and booklet at once. There is no greater service you can perform for humanity than to tell any rheumatic sufferer about this wonderful preparation. Address: Hill Medicine Co., 117 East 84th St., New York, N. Y.
